History of Duke University

Duke University was created in 1924 by James Buchanan Duke as a memorial to his father, Washington Duke. The Dukes, a Durham family that built a worldwide financial empire in the manufacture of tobacco products and developed electricity production in the Carolinas, long had been interested in Trinity College. Trinity traced its roots to 1838 in nearby Randolph County when local Methodist and Quaker communities opened Union Institute. The school, then named Trinity College, moved to Durham in 1892, where Benjamin Newton Duke served as a primary benefactor and link with the Duke family until his death in 1929. In December 1924, the provisions of indenture by Benjamin's brother, James B. Duke, created the family philanthropic foundation, The Duke Endowment, which provided for the expansion of Trinity College into Duke University.

As a result of the Duke gift, Trinity underwent both physical and academic expansion. The original Durham campus became known as East Campus when it was rebuilt in stately Georgian architecture. West Campus, Gothic in style and dominated by the soaring 210-foot tower of Duke Chapel, opened in 1930. East Campus served as home of the Woman's College of Duke University until 1972, when the men's and women's undergraduate colleges merged. Both men and women undergraduates now enroll in either the Trinity College of Arts & Sciences or the Pratt School of Engineering. In 1995, East Campus became the home for all first-year students. Duke maintains a historic affiliation with the United Methodist Church.

Duke University Mission Statement, excerpt

“...The mission of Duke University is to provide a superior liberal education to undergraduate students, attending not only to their intellectual growth but also to their development as adults committed to high ethical standards and full participation as leaders in their communities; to prepare future members of the learned professions for lives of skilled and ethical service by providing excellent graduate and professional education; to advance the frontiers of knowledge and contribute boldly to the international community of scholarship; to promote an intellectual environment built on a commitment to free and open inquiry; to help those who suffer, cure disease, and promote health, through sophisticated medical research and thoughtful patient care; to provide wide ranging educational opportunities, on and beyond our campuses, for traditional students, active professionals and life-long learners using the power of information technologies; and to promote a deep appreciation for the range of human difference and potential, a sense of the obligations and rewards of citizenship, and a commitment to learning, freedom and truth.

"By pursuing these objectives with vision and integrity, Duke University seeks to engage the mind, elevate the spirit, and stimulate the best effort of all who are associated with the University; to contribute in diverse ways to the local community, the state, the nation and the world; and to attain and maintain a place of real leadership in all that we do."

Trinity College of Arts & Sciences

Duke students are empowered to learn, expected to change, and encouraged to lead. A Duke education is based on the understanding that students grow intellectually and personally through successive learning experiences that are transformative.

Trinity College of Arts & Sciences is Duke's liberal arts college. Steeped in academic tradition and infused with a sense of dynamic engagement, the college embraces the enduring philosophy of teaching and learning that provides students with a broad base of knowledge and a strong sense of values and ethics. The college enhances the liberal arts tradition with robust opportunities to participate in independent research as well as civic and global engagement.

Trinity students learn to communicate persuasively, bring meaning to information, discern competing claims, and develop capacity for reasoning, analysis, and empathy. Students participate in academic pursuits grounded on the values of freedom of expression, respect for diversity, and the force of reason.

The innovative course of study in Trinity College is structured so students can pursue learning in and out of the classroom, laboratory, and studio. Global education, service learning, and research opportunities complement classroom instruction to infuse students with the excitement of discovery and the ability to use knowledge in the service of society. Trinity College's 635 faculty members teach in 36 departments and programs. This creates distinctive interdisciplinary opportunities for Trinity students to approach real-world problems from different fields of inquiry. Trinity College students learn without limits.

Duke University Economics Department

The Department of Economics is home to approximately 700 undergraduate students, making economics one of the most popular majors on campus. Our graduate programs have approximately 170 students working toward a Master's degree or Ph.D. Our outstanding faculty are distinguished in their specialties and are often sought for their expert opinion. Both students and faculty are supported by a helpful and caring staff, dedicated to the Department's success.

Alpha Omega Phi Colony History

Origin

Our colony was started with a mission to foster business professionalism at Duke University. One of our founding members, Zhe Zhao, initiated the idea of building a new chapter of Delta Sigma Pi Business Fraternity on campus after she transferred from her chapter at the University of California, Berkeley. While at Berkeley, she initially learned about Delta Sigma Pi, and proceeded to join the accomplished brothers of the Rho Chapter. Once at Duke, she believed that the mission of Delta Sigma Pi would benefit Duke students as well. With this belief, she proposed the idea of starting a new chapter to the Economics Department and recruited the first group of ten other founding members. The initial members devoted their time and effort to establish the foundation of the colony and mentored younger members in their career and leadership skills. Today, they still keep connected with the colony after graduation.

Further Development

With a strong establishment, we continued our recruitment program and attracted many young talents who are all passionate about Delta Sigma Pi as well as business in general. We have created a positive image of Alpha Omega Phi Colony on campus by organizing various professional and community service events. For example, we have managed a Bloomberg workshop every fall semester, internship preparation panel during the year, and participated in Relay for Life. We have also developed a relationship with Fuqua Business School to obtain educational and professional resources. Additionally, our faculty advisor, John Caccavale, has strongly advocated our group to students and Economic Department. Everyone is motivated and ready to take the colony a leap forward.

Community Service Events

The brothers of the Alpha Omega Phi Colony are dedicated to making a difference at Duke and in the Durham community. We believe that in order to thrive as a chapter, we need to have a good relationship with the communities we are a part of. Community service serves as a way to help those in need and to foster a closer relationship with those around us. In addition, our involvement in the community can strengthen the feeling of brotherhood and can develop our business skills such as communication and leadership. Our past community service events have involved many different organizations on campus and in the Durham community. Particularly we have done many events with Durham Habitat For Humanity.

Duke Men's Basketball Concessions - 2/24/2013

Members of the Alpha Omega Phi colony volunteered at the Concession Stand for the Duke vs Boston College basketball game in order to raise funds for a charity in need. All proceeds raised went to the Duke Children's Hospital.

Habitat for Humanity Restore - 2/16/2013

The brothers of Delta Sigma Pi helped out with the destruction program in one of the houses in Chapel Hill, NC. We took out flooring and kitchen cabinet and delivered them to Habitat Restore. They will be sold at the Restore and the profit will go back to Habitat's fund and be used in building more houses.

Duke Duke Gente Aprendiendo Para Nuevas Oportunidades (GANO) ESL Service - 2/5/2013

The members of the fraternity went to volunteer with Duke GANO (Gente Aprendiendo para Nuevas Oportunidades). ### 2013 Annual Martin Luther King, Jr. Million Meals Event - 1/21/2013

The brothers of Delta Sigma Pi participated in the 2013 Annual MLK Million Meals Event in Duke intramural gym. We were there for over two hours and packed meals for the homeless people in the Durham community.

Durham Habitat for Humanity - 12/1/2012

For this community service event, we helped Durham Habitat for Humanity paint the inside of a house they were building. We also did some work in the crawl space, such as taking out old nails and putting in new ones.

Professional Events

Interview Workshop - 02/12/2013

The Economics Student Union teamed up with the Career Center to host an Interviewing Skills Workshop. The members of DSP went to the informative presentation by Anita Stockmans (Duke Career Center) on how to make a great first impression and succeed in interviews.

Bloomberg Training Session - 09/26/2012

The Delta Sigma Pi business fraternity will be hosting Mr. Robert McCraw of Bloomberg for a training session this Wednesday, September 26th, at 6:30pm in SocSci 139. Mr. McCraw is a Bloomberg Account manager, and he will be meeting with Duke students to train us on Bloomberg navigation, security analysis, news, and basic economic tools. He will also walk us through the Bloomberg Certification process. He has given similar presentations at Tulane, Duke, UNC, Elon, & NYU, and this is a great opportunity to get to learn the Bloomberg system (something that, as you know, is pretty important in finance).

Accenture Coffee Chat - 08/31/2012

Help students learn more about the topic of management consulting and Accenture Management Consultants about their experience.

Entrepreneurship at its Finest – 02/08/2012

Co-sponsored with the Duke Marketing Club, presented by Aaron Perlut and Talify to learn about entrepreneurship, public relations, marketing, and the new job-hunting platform Talify.

Bloomberg FX Markets Presentation - 01/18/2012

Steve Johnson, from Bloomberg, hosted a session on the FX markets using the portable Bloomberg terminal during the spring semester. The seminar was beneficial for both students interviewing and students generally interested in FX.

Fuqua School of Business Information Session – 10/29/2011

To learn about the programs of Fuqua and network with prospective students we went to an information session at the Fuqua School of Business. In addition, we had a private session with the director of the Markets and Management Program (MMS) at Fuqua.

Bloomberg Currency Market Overview - 09/22/2011

Stephen Jonathan, an FX Application Specialist at Bloomberg, came to Duke to give currency market updates! Prior to Bloomberg, Stephen was Executive Director of JP Morgan Foreign Exchange Sales and Risk Management for 8 years. He has also worked at Merrill Lynch and Citibank, specializing in the currency market. It was a great opportunity to learn about the foreign exchange market, including the currency in Euro zone and Emerging Markets. Also, we got a sense of how political regulations affect the market.

Capital One Panel Discussion & Networking Event - 09/14/2011

We hosted a panel discussion in conjunction with Capital One on Wednesday, September 14 at 4:30 p.m. consisting mostly of newer Analysts from Capital One, who shared their experiences as young Analysts. This was a fantastic opportunity to meet and network with representatives of the company, as well as to hear valuable insight about what working at Capital One is like, especially as a recent graduate. At the conclusion of the panel, panelists answered questions from the audience.

Bloomberg Financial Market Training Program - 04/05/2011

Delta Sigma Pi Business Fraternity and the Duke Financial Education Partnership are pleased to invite you to attend the Bloomberg Financial Market Training Program. This special event will give you the opportunity to learn about one of the best education and career tools available from the experts who created them!

Bloomberg is the industry-leading platform for news, data, analytical tools and research that drive the global marketplace. Bloomberg's experts will be at Duke on Tuesday, April 5, to hold a training program designed to teach you how to use Bloomberg terminals and to explain how professionals on both the buy/sell side connect and interact using the platform. Knowledge of the Bloomberg system gives students real world experience and practical skills that are highly valued by employers. In addition, they will be providing instructions for students on how to complete the Bloomberg Essentials Training Program online using the Bloomberg terminals at Duke. Upon finishing every Bloomberg Essentials Training Program, you will receive a certificate of course completion, which is a highly valuable asset to any resume.

Northern Trust Lunch - 03/11/2011

Lunch with the president of Northern Trust to learn about wealth management and career opportunities with the company

Professional Forum/Panel - 01/26/2011

This is a panel to learn more about internships, and to workshop your own resume to be better and more competitive to potential employees. A properly formatted resume is paramount, as your application may not even be seen twice if it is not satisfactory, and attending this forum could be the difference between getting an interview and not getting one.

Morgan Stanley GCM - 01/24/2011

Consider Global Capital Markets at Morgan Stanley for a rewarding and enriching summer experience in the financial industry. Global Capital Markets bankers work in a fast-paced environment, close to the markets. Morgan Stanley's lean deal teams give you constant exposure to senior bankers and clients, while also allowing you to gain significant transaction experience. Come join an informal talk with Morgan Stanley bankers to hear about their roles in GCM and to network with Duke alumni.

Fundraising Events

Though we have not done as many fundraisers as we might have, the ones we did were fairly successful. The Alpha Omega Phi colony has, however, mainly focused on Community Service and Professional Events.

Pizza Sale - 02/04/2011

Realising that partygoers are often hungry at night yet far from food, on this night we sold pizza near/on the way to the nightlife in the college town. The hungry denizens of the clubs and bars were ecstatic to see food and we sold out fairly quickly.

Bake Sale - 02/16/2011

Armed with fresh homemade cookies, brownies, and rice krispie treats, we decided to sell them on the quad for two hours near the lunch rush-hour. Duke Students and Faculty alike demonstrated an affinity for baked goods, as we sold out within the first hour and vowed to return in the future with more.

Social Events

Unfortunately, we failed to document the majority of our social events; therefore, we have few "official" events to present. Oddly enough, the reason behind this phenomenon was actually the closeness between our members. We naturally eat, study, and party together as friends, so there has been little need for official social events other than during recruitment (for the new recruits to get to know people).

Social Night - 01/28/2011

Social Dinner with the new recruits.

Social Night - 09/16/2011

Social Dinner with the new recruits.

Social Night - 02/17/2012
